Mohawk to share the stage with world renowned professional photographers at HP Indigo Global Photo Summit in Barcelona, Feb 5-6

(COHOES, New York) - February 4, 2013 – Mohawk today announced that Chris Harrold, Mohawk's Vice President of Business Development, was invited to present at the upcoming HP Indigo Global Photo Summit in Barcelona, Spain, February 5-6, 2013.

The HP Indigo Global Photo Summit attracts a select roster of attendees including professional photographers, pro labs, commercial printers and pro photo finishers from around the world. The Summit is designed to educate the professional photography industry about the new possibilities that digital printing can offer.

“Mohawk fine papers are regularly selected by professional photographers who want to present their creative work on the finest canvas available. So, it was a natural fit for Mohawk to partner with HP at the HP Indigo Global Photo Summit, and we are honored to have the opportunity to speak alongside some of the most talented professional photographers in the world,” said Chris Harrold, Mohawk's Vice President of Business Development.

“Mohawk has been an HP media partner for many years, during which we have worked closely with its digital paper teams to develop papers for use across a broad range of applications,” said Manel Martinez, vice president and general manager, EMEA, GSB, HP. “Events like the HP Indigo Global Photo Summit provide a well-rounded experience for suppliers, print service providers and end users to learn from each other.”
